In order to make the Wills for Heroes project as convenient as possible we will be holding the program on site. For the process to run smoothly and take as little of your time as possible, we provide you with following instructions and documents to complete and return the day of the program. By giving you this information in advance, you will have time to think about these issues and discuss them with any person with whom you may wish.

To participate please:

1. Sign up for a clinic appointment time

2. Complete the attached Questionnaire and bring it with you at your appointment time. (If you are uncertain about how to answer a question you can discuss it with a volunteer attorney the day of the clinic. Please complete as much of the questionnaire as possible.)

3. Read, sign and bring the attached Disclaimer with you to your appointment.

5. Please know the nature of your ownership interest in any Real Property. You should be aware that property owned with a right of survivorship will pass outside of your will to the person or persons with whom you have joint ownership with right of survivorship. (For example, if you own your home with your spouse or parent and that ownership is joint with right of survivorship, then that property will pass to that person with whom you have joint ownership even if you try to pass your interest to someone else named in your will.)

We look forward to seeing you at the Wills for Heroes clinic!

24. If you are unmarried and/or have no children, to whom would you want your estate to go to?
25. If the above person or persons predecease you to whom do you want your estate to go?

26. Do you want to leave any specific personal property to someone?

   If so, then you need to be aware that there may be some limitations based upon your wishes. Due to the possible complicated nature of such requests, the Wills for Heroes program is not designed to include such specific bequests in your will. However, you can write such items down below to be included in a memorandum. Such a memorandum is recognized in some states as part of the Will but it is not “officially” recognized under Alabama law. Under Alabama law, such a memorandum is precatory rather than mandatory. This means that your personal representative is not required to follow your wishes in the memorandum. However, from practical experience, to the extent there is such a memorandum in place, your personal representative and/or family would most likely abide by that and not make an issue of it. However, in the strictest sense, that memorandum is not part of the Will because it was not contemporaneous with the execution of the Will. If you specifically want a certain piece of personal property to go to a specific person, then that item should be specifically mentioned in the Will, and you may need to seek further legal counsel outside of this program to accomplish that. Of course, the downside of naming something specifically in the Will is that you may change your mind and the Will would have to be redone and re-executed. If there is a memorandum, the memorandum can be torn up and a new one prepared. On the other hand, if it is in the Will, the Will would have to be redone and re-executed.

Based upon the above explanation, are there any specific assets you wish to leave to someone in a memorandum (i.e. cash, antiques, heirlooms, collectibles, guns, etc.)? What and to who? (Please indicate the % of cash assets you wish the beneficiary to receive when possible. Beneficiaries in insurance policies, stocks, bonds, mutual funds, etc. are not named in your Will. Also real property owned jointly with right of survivorship passes to the joint owner(s) instead of any beneficiary named in your will.)

31. DO YOU WANT AN ADVANCE DIRECTIVE FOR HEALTH CARE?

(Living Will)
☐ Yes
☐ No

An Advanced Health care directive allows you to make your wishes known about what medical treatment or other care you would or would not want if you become too sick to speak for yourself. It generally covers two situations if you become terminally ill or injured and if you become permanently unconscious.

You are terminally ill or injured is when your doctor and another doctor decide that you have a condition that cannot be cured and that you will likely die in the near future from this condition.

You are permanently unconscious when your doctor and another doctor agree that within a reasonable degree of medical certainty you can no longer think, feel anything, knowingly move, or be aware of being alive. They believe this condition will last indefinitely without hope for improvement and have watched you long enough to make that decision.

32. Life sustaining treatment – Life sustaining treatment includes drugs, machines, or medical procedures that would keep you alive but would not cure you. If you choose not to have life sustaining treatment, you will still get medicines and treatments that ease your pain and keep you comfortable.

Do you want life sustaining treatment if you are terminally ill or injured?

DISCLAIMER

The Alabama State Bar Association Wills for Heroes (“WFH”) project is available to First Responders only. WFH provides simple Wills, Advance Health Care Directives, and Powers of Attorney to eligible members of the First Responder community. The documents and information that will be provided by WFH volunteers are designed for small or modest estates and the information provided by WFH volunteers is general in nature. Large estates, or complicated legal matters pertaining to modest estates that require more time and assistance than can be provided by the WFH summary services, are not covered under the WFH program and should be handled by more experienced estate, tax and probate lawyers. The determination of whether an estate is too large or complicated and thus outside the scope of the program is to be made in the sole discretion of WFH. WFH reserves the right to refuse this service to anyone.

In the State of Alabama, when someone dies and has a will, the will generally must be probated. This is the court supervised process of transferring assets to someone after death. Probate has fees associated with it, but your wishes will be honored to the extent allowed by law.

The following issues are beyond the scope of the WFH program; therefore, neither WFH nor WFH volunteers intend to provide any legal advice in these areas:

1. Beneficiary designations on any assets;
2. Estate, gift, income and/or Generation Skipping Transfer tax issues;
3. Trusts such as Revocable, Irrevocable, Special needs, or Charitable trusts;
4. Citizenship/domicile of first responder and/or spouse;
5. Business ownership or family business holdings;
6. Assets held outside of the United States of America; and
7. Any other issues which are deemed by any volunteer as more complicated, difficult, or will require significant time and expertise beyond the scope of this program.

All information will be kept confidential and is for the sole use of the WFH program. The lawyers you will see are provided for the sole purpose of drafting and providing these simple estate planning documents at no cost. In addition, no attorney-client relationship or other professional relationship of any nature whatsoever will be deemed to have been created by your participation in WFH.

Your signature below acknowledges that you are aware that no lawyer or law firm involved in WFH has performed a conflict search on your name. If you are aware or become aware of any potential conflicts at the time of your meeting with these volunteers you further acknowledge that it is your obligation to inform them of the potential conflict at that time.

Your signature also acknowledges that your documents will be prepared by WFH volunteers in reliance upon the information provided by you in your estate planning questionnaire and during your meeting with a WFH volunteer lawyer to prepare your legal documents. It is your sole responsibility to accurately and completely answer all questions in the estate planning questionnaire and to provide accurate and complete information to WFH volunteers. Failure to do so could result in documents that do not adequately address your estate planning needs.

Finally, your signature below is an acknowledgement that you understand that the Alabama State Bar does not offer or provide legal advice.

(Initials) I understand and agree that, no attorney-client relationship or other professional relationship of any nature whatsoever has been formed, and understand that all services are complete once my estate planning documents are signed, witnessed, and notarized.
